

I am concerned that I will lose the only radio station I listen to if the LPFM stations are allowed to take priority over my local current FM translator service. I listen to K-LOVE exclusively in the car, at home, and at work. The music on the station is always positive and uplifting and I don't have to worry about hearing swear words from either the DJs or the music. If the LPFM stations push out the FM translator services, my world and that of many others will become much darker and more depressing. The message and the music broadcast by K-LOVE is one that the whole world needs to hear, but more than that, it is one of very few stations that is genuinely safe for the whole family to listen to. The public needs K-LOVE as a place to go to for words and music that will never be vulgar, where the DJs actually care about the listeners, and where they can turn to be uplifted when they are down. I don't believe there is any radio station on the airwaves that can provide the same service that K-LOVE does and if this proposal goes through, K-LOVE would likely be removed from my airwaves.

Thank you for your attention.

Lynnette Sander
Portland, OR